VOLUME III INDEX

Number 1 (Spring) pp. 1–118
Number 2 (Summer) pp. 119–206
Number 3 (Fall) pp. 207–326
Number 4 (Winter) pp. 327–428

A

Abbott, S., "Family Firms as Utopian Organizations," 23–33
Adams, R. M., "Taxation and Statutory Considerations in the Formation of Family Foundations," 383–394
Anderson, C., Women in Families, reviewed, 199–202
Arbitration, 12, 210
Aronoff, C. E., interview, 45–67
Articles: "Beyond Success: The Continuing Contribution of the Family Foundation," 347–355; "Credentials: A Commentary," 267–269; "Family Business Mediation: A Conflict Resolution Model," 209–224; "Family Farmers' Reactions to Their Work: A Job Diagnostic Survey," 35–44; "Family Firms as Utopian Organizations," 23–33; "Family Foundations: High Risk, High Reward," 331–335; "Financing Family Business: Alternatives to Selling Out or Going Public," 225–243; "The Impact of Family Dynamics on Structure and Process in Family Foundations," 357–374; "The Power of Invisible Women in the Family Business," 153–167; "Preparing the New CEO: Managing the Father-Daughter Succession Process in Family Business," 169–181; "Problems and Prospects in Clinical Research on Family Firms," 245–262; 'The Role of the Nonfamily Administrator in Family Foundations," 375–382; "Rough Family Justice: Equity in Family Business Succession Planning," 3–22; "Should We Professionalize Family Business Consulting?" 263–265; "Taxation and Statutory Considerations in the Formation of Family Foundations," 383–394; "Who Are the Family Foundations? Findings from the Foundation Management Survey," 337–346; "Women in Family Businesses: Challenges and Opportunities," 125–137; "Women, Family Culture, and Family Business," 139–151
Association for Women in Family Businesses (WIFOB), 126
Astrachan, J. H., "A Dialogue with Earl Graves and Earl G. Graves, Jr.," 271–284; "An Interview with Craig E. Aronoff, Founder of the Kennesaw State College Family Business Forum," 45–67
Ayres, G. R., "Rough Family Justice: Equity in Family Business Succession Planning," 3–22

B

Belenky, M. F., Women's Ways of Knowing: The Development of Self, Voice and Mind, reviewed, 202–205
Berenbeim, R. E., "How Business Families Manage the Transition from Owner to Professional Management," 69–110
"Beyond Success: The Continuing Contribution of the Family Foundation," 347–355
Boards of directors: adjunct, 406–408; community members, 410; continuity, 354, 366–368, 405–420; and continuity of firm, 100–102; and corporate governance, 80; diversity, 409–412; family foundations, 338–344, 368–369, 405–414; and founders, 101; and grant making, 411–412
Book reviews: Charity Begins at Home: Generosity and Self-Interest Among the Philanthropic Elite, 424–427; Management Succession: From the Owner-Founder to the Professional President, 111–114; Sleep-Tight Money: A Guide to Managing Your Money Safely and Achieving Financial Peace of Mind, 114–117; Smart Growth: Critical Choices for Business Continuity and Prosperity, 322–326; The Golden Donors: A New Anatomy of

Book reviews (continued)
the Great Foundations, 421–424; Women in Families, 199–202; Women's Ways of Knowing: The Development of Self, Voice and Mind, 202–205
Brody, D., "Who Are the Family Foundations? Findings from the Foundation Management Survey," 337–346
Buchholz, B. B., Corporate Bloodlines: The Future of the Family Firm, reviewed, 317–322
Bukowitz, W. R., "Women, Family Culture, and Family Business," 139–151
Buyouts, 11

C

Capital cost/availability, 237–239; and debt investment, 237; needs, 230–231; pursuit, 239
Change: family firm (study), 70–110; organizational, 69–70
Charities. See Family foundations; Philanthropic organizations; Philanthropists
Charity Begins at Home: Generosity and Self-Interest Among the Philanthropic Elite, reviewed, 424–427
Chief executive officers (CEOs). See Founders
Child care, 128
Children: as employees, 9–10; and lifetime transfers, 19–20; needs, 13–15; as presidents, 8–9; roles, 7–10; as shareholders, 7–8; and succession planning, 6. See also Father-daughter relationships; Heirs
Classics: "How Business Families Manage the Transition from Owner to Professional Management," 69–110; "Tracking Strategy in an Entrepreneurial Firm," 285–315
Clinchy, B. M., Women's Ways of Knowing: The Development of Self, Voice and Mind, reviewed, 202–205
Clinical methods research, 246–261
Conflict management, 364–365
Consultants: credentials, 267–269; ethics, 264, 268; family, 163–164, 166; family foundations, 345; OD, 41; professionalizing, 263–265
Continuity: and adjunct board members, 406–408; and Educational Foundation of America, 405–408; family business, 354; family foundation, 366–368; guidelines, 415–417; Lawrence Welk Foundation, 413–414; Wieboldt Foundation, 409–412
"Continuity in the Family Foundation," 405–428
Corporate Bloodlines: The Future of the Family Firm, reviewed, 317–322
Council on Foundations, 337, 357, 421
Crane, M., Corporate Bloodlines: The Future of the Family Firm, reviewed, 317–322
"Credentials: A Commentary," 267–269
Culture: and CEOs, 171; defined, 140; family, 140–141; organizational, 140, 171, 252, 255–256; paternalistic, 30–31

D

Danco, L. A., "Beyond Success: The Continuing Contribution of the Family Foundation," 347–355
Daughters. See Father-daughter relationships; Women
Davidow, T. D., "Credentials: A Commentary," 267–269
Davis, J. A., "The Impact of Family Dynamics on Structure and Process in Family Foundations," 357–374
"Dialogue with Earl Graves and Earl G. Graves, Jr., A," 271–284
Dreux, D. R., IV, "Financing Family Business: Alternatives to Selling Out or Going Public," 225–243
Drozdow, N., review by, 199–202
Dumas, C. A., "Preparing the New CEO: Managing the Father-Daughter Succession Process in Family Business," 169–181

E

Educational Foundation of America, 405–408
Employee stock ownership plans (ESOPs), 235, 236
Employees: children as, 9–10; relations with managers, 79–90
Entrepreneurs. See Founders
Estate planning. See Succession planning

F

Family: assessment/intervention, 163–165; changes in, 104; vs. company roles, 75–76; consultants, 163–164, 166; culture, 140–141; dynamics, 134–135, 369–374, 377–378; foundations, 369–374, 377–378; and founder retirement, 102–110; hierarchical structure, 145–146; identity issues, 80–81; misfits, 81; respectability, 157; roles, 102–109, 252–253, 256–257; rough justice, 5, 10, 15, 21–22; rules and roles, 141–145; triangles, 146–150; and women's invisibility, 156–159. See also Family business; Family systems theory; Triangular family patterns

Family business: and authority, 29–30; coalition building, 71, 74; commitment, 26–29; continuity, 354, 366–368, 405–420; decision-making process, 11–12; economic fairness, 12–22; evolutionary stages, 71–75; failure, 31; fathers/daughters, 127, 144, 149; financial/operating characteristics, 228–229; founder-ascendant, 74–75; and founder's retirement, 81–89; gender issues, 129–130; harmony, 25–26; ideals/goals, 23–24, 76; and lifetime transfers, 19–20; managerial vs. proprietary interests, 78–79; market data, 226–227; minority perspective, 271–284; and orderliness, 26; organization/structure, 70, 75, 251, 253–254; and perfection, 25; policy statements, 91–98; real estate, 15–16; social identity, 24–25; values, 79–81

Family Business Forum (Kennesaw State College): advertising, 62–63; advisory board, 57–58; and chairs of free enterprise, 51; and confidentiality, 64–65; and Family Firm Institute, 63; fees, 59; founder's importance to, 54–56; future, 66; and insurance, 65; interdisciplinary aspects, 64; membership, 47, 60; need for, 52–53; origins, 49–51; overview of, program, 46–47; presenters, 61–62; research component, 63–64; seminars, 47–48, 53–54, 62; services, 47; sponsorship, 58–60; success, 56; support, 57; systems approach, 49; university affiliation, 64

Family business mediation. See Mediation

"Family Business Mediation: A Conflict Resolution Model," 209–224

Family Business Triangle, 229–231

Family farmers: financial difficulties, 35–36; vs. industrialized workers, 35–36, 41; and job characteristics model, 37, 40–41; job motivation, 36–37; job satisfaction, 41–42; reactions to work (study), 37–43

"Family Farmers' Reactions to Their Work: A Job Diagnostic Survey," 35–44

Family firm continuity. See Continuity

Family Firm Institute, 63

Family firm research. See Research

Family firms. See Family business

"Family Firms as Utopian Organizations," 23–33

Family foundations: attractions, 331–332; boards, 338–344, 368–369, 405–414; and conflict management, 364–365; and consultants, 345; and continuity, 354, 366–368, 405–420; contributions, 385–386; cross-generational developmental perspective, 369–372; effectiveness, 334–335; examples, 423; and family dynamics (study), 357–374; and family-owned businesses, 389–391; and founders, 347–352; future research implications, 373–374; and grant making, 365–366; management models, 345; nature, 383–385; and nonfamily administrators, 375–381; prefunding, 386; psychological hurdles, 350–352; rewards, 333–334; risks, 332–333; setting up, 352–354; size, 338; social argument, 349–350; staff, 344–345, 368–369; tax advantages, 349; tax benefits, 385–389; taxation and regulation, 391–394; and trusts, 387–388. See also Philanthropic organizations

"Family Foundations: High Risk, High Reward," 331–335

Family systems theory, and women's invisibility, 159–163. See also Triangular family patterns

Family therapy, 260–261

Father-daughter relationships: caretaker of king's gold, 176–177; caring for father, 174–176; and daughter's identity, 171–173; interdependence, 177; and self-psychology model, 173–174; succession issues (father's account), 183–193; suc-

Father-daughter relationships (continued)
cession issues (interview with daughter), 193–198; and succession process, 177–179; taker of gold, 176. See also Family business: fathers/daughters; Succession: father-daughter process
Feature: "Continuity in the Family Foundation," 405–428; "A Dialogue with Earl Graves and Earl G. Graves, Jr.," 271–284; "An Interview with Craig E. Aronoff, Founder of the Kennesaw State College Family Business Forum," 45–67; "An Interview with Ira S. Hirschfield, Director of Philanthropy, Rockefeller Family and Associates," 395–404; "My Daughter, the Successor," 183–198
Finances: and capital, 230–231; control, 230; family business, 228–229; Family Business Triangle, 229–231; and liquidity, 231; planning, 114–117. See also Capital; Investments
Financing: and capital, 230–231, 237–239; and family business market, 226–227; historical alternatives, 234–235; nonpublic, 235–237. See also Capital; Investments
"Financing Family Business: Alternatives to Selling Out or Going Public," 225–243
Foundation Management Survey (1990), 337–346
Foundations. See Family foundations
Founders: ascendant organizations, 74–75; and boards of directors, 101; and family foundations, 347–352; and financial resources, 80; involvement vs. delegation, 99–100; and organizational structure, 171; retirement, 81, 85–86; rule-to-reign transition, 77–79; successful departure, 87–89; and succession, 84–87
Fredricks, S., "Continuity in the Family Foundation," 405–428

G

Gersick, K. E., "The Impact of Family Dynamics on Structure and Process in Family Foundations," 357–374
Gillis-Donovan, J., "The Power of Invisible Women in the Family Business," 153–167
Goldberger, N. R., Women's Ways of Knowing: The Development of Self, Voice and Mind, reviewed, 202–205
Golden Donors: A New Anatomy of the Great Foundations, The, reviewed, 421–424
Grant making: and boards of directors, 411–412; and family dynamics, 365–366
Grantor Income Trust (GRIT), 20
Graves, E. G., interview, 271–284
Graves, E. G., Jr., interview, 271–284
Guzzo, R. A., "Family Firms as Utopian Organizations," 23–33

H

Hallett, A. C., "Continuity in the Family Foundation," 405–428
Hansen, R. W., "Continuity in the Family Foundation," 405–428
Hayes, J. T., "Taxation and Statutory Considerations in the Formation of Family Foundations," 383–394
Healey, J. K., "Continuity in the Family Foundation," 405–428
Heirs: and boards of directors, 101; education/training, 10–11, 76, 78; legitimacy, 76, 78; number of, 75; roles of, in family business, 7–10. See also Children
Herbert, J. I., "A Dialogue with Earl Graves and Earl G. Graves, Jr.," 271–284
Hinsz, V. B., "Family Farmers' Reactions to Their Work: A Job Diagnostic Survey," 35–44
Hirschfield, I. R., interview, 395–404
Hollander, B. S., "Women, Family Culture, and Family Business," 139–151
"How Business Families Manage the Transition from Owner to Professional Management," 69–110

I

Identity development, 171–172
"Impact of Family Dynamics on Structure and Process in Family Foundations, The," 357–374
Initial public offerings (IPOs), 235, 236

"Interview with Craig E. Aronoff, Founder of the Kennesaw State College Family Business Forum, An" 45–67
"Interview with Ira S. Hirschfield, Director of Philanthropy, Rockefeller Family and Associates, An," 395–404
"Investment banker role, 239–241
Investments: assets, 20–21; and insurance assets, 19, 115; joint, 17–18. See also Capital; Finances; Financing; Investors
Investors: competitive differentiation, 233–234; criteria, 232–233
Invisible women: familial forces, 156–159; forces fostering, 153–159; intervention model, 163–166; options, 165–166; role, 143–145; and social forces, 153–156. See also Women
Isenman, A. W., review by, 317–322

J

Job Diagnostic Survey, 37–38, 39, 41–43
Jobs: affective, outcomes, 37; characteristics model, 37; context satisfactions, 37

K

Krause, L. A., Sleep-Tight Money: A Guide to Managing Your Money Safely and Achieving Financial Peace of Mind, reviewed, 114–117

L

Lansberg, I., "The Impact of Family Dynamics on Structure and Process in Family Foundations," 357–374
Lawrence Welk Foundation, 413–414
Leadership: family firm, 96–97; and lifecycle theory, 86; succession, 30–31, 146, 169–179; and successors, 5; transfer, 146

M

McCollom, M. E., "Problems and Prospects in Clinical Research on Family Firms," 245–262
McGoldrick, M., Women in Families, reviewed, 199–202
Management: accountability, 89–90; decisions vs. business values, 79–81; family foundation models, 345; financial, 80, 114–117; and planning, 92; succession, 69–109, 111–113. See also Conflict management
Management Succession: From the Owner-Founder to the Professional President, reviewed, 111–114
Managers: professional, 69–109; relations with employees, 79–80
Markets: capital, 232–234; family business, 226–227
Mediation: agreements, 221; vs. arbitration, 12, 210; and conflict resolution, 222; defined, 209; family business, 11–12, 209–212; and issue identification, 219–220; vs. litigation, 209–210; and negotiation, 220–221; philosophy, 212–214; process, 212–213, 218–221; and succession planning, 211–212
Mediators: case studies, 214–218; as facilitator, 214–216; functions, 214; as problem solver, 217–218; and slippery slope argument, 216–217
Mentors: and anchoring, 172–173; and women, 135
Mintzberg, H., "Tracking Strategy in an Entrepreneurial Firm," 285–315
Moynihan-Bradt, C., "The Power of Invisible Women in the Family Business," 153–167
"My Daughter, the Successor," 183–198

N

Narva, R. L., "Credentials: A Commentary," 267–269
Nelson, L. C., "Family Farmers' Reactions to Their Work: A Job Diagnostic Survey," 35–44
Nielsen, W. A., The Golden Donors: A New Anatomy of the Great Foundations, reviewed, 421–424
Nonfamily administrators (NFAs): benefits, 376–377; decision to hire, 375–376; effectiveness, 379–381; and family dynamics, 377–378; and family foundations, 375–381; job satisfaction, 378–379

O

Odendahl, T., Charity Begins at Home: Generosity and Self-Interest Among the Philanthropic Elite, reviewed, 424–427

Organizational development (OD) consultants (survey), 41
Organizations: change, 69–70; culture, 252, 255–256; and family roles, 252–253, 256–257; structure, 251, 253–254; task structure, 251–252, 254–255
Owner-founder. See Founders

P

Payton, R. L., "Continuity in the Family Foundation," 405–428
Peck, J. S., review by, 202–205
Peer panels, 11
Philanthropic organizations: definition, 383; history, 421–422; international, 332; untapped resources, 350. See also Family foundations; Philanthropists
Philanthropists: elite, 424–425; power, 425–426; and social injustice, 426. See also Family foundations; Philanthropic organizations
Planning: financial, 114–117; and management, 92; process, 92, 104–107. See also Succession planning
"Power of Invisible Women in the Family Business, The" 153–167
Poza, E. J., Smart Growth: Critical Choices for Business Continuity and Prosperity, reviewed, 322–326
"Preparing the New CEO: Managing the Father-Daughter Succession Process in Family Business," 169–181
Prince, R. A., "Family Business Mediation: A Conflict Resolution Model," 209–224
"Problems and Prospects in Clinical Research on Family Firms," 245–262

R

Reilly, A. H., review by, 322–326
Research: challenges, 250–253; clinical methods, 246–250; countertransference, 250; and family business characteristics, 251–253; and family business theory, 251; guidelines, 259–261; and methodological fit, 253–257; problems, 257–259; strategy, 285–288
"Role of the Nonfamily Administrator in Family Foundations, The," 375–382
"Rough Family Justice: Equity in Family Business Succession Planning," 3–22
Rule-to-reign transition, 77–79

S

Salganicoff, M., "Women in Family Businesses: Challenges and Opportunities," 125–137
Shareholders: children as, 7–8; minority interest, 8
"Should We Professionalize Family Business Counsulting?" 263–265
Sleep-at-Night Earnings (SANE), 116
Sleep-Tight Money: A Guide to Managing Your Money Safely and Achieving Financial Peace of Mind, reviewed, 114–117
Smart Growth: Critical Choices for Business Continuity and Prosperity, reviewed, 322–326
Steinberg Inc. (study), 288–305
Stock reorganization, 16–17
Stone, D., review by, 421–424
Strategy: defined, 285–286; entrepreneurial, 309–311; formation, 305–313; planning, 311–313; reorientation, 308–309; study, 286–305; and uneven growth, 306–307
Strauch, C., "Who Are the Family Foundations? Findings from the Foundation Management Survey," 337–346
Succession: discussing, within company, 86–87; father-daughter process, 177–179; from founder to professional manager, 69–109, 111–113; and founders, 84–87; and male/female issues, 146; problems, 30–31; public vs. private companies, 228–229; stages of, process, 112; warfare image, 146
Succession planning: affective aspects, 170–171; and business assets, 15–18; and children, 6; and family business, 5; importance, 169; and mediation, 211–212; and nonbusiness assets, 18–22; and parent-owner, 5–6; priorities, 4–7; and rough family justice, 5, 10, 15, 21–22; and tax planning, 6–7

T

Tarule, J. M., Women's Ways of Knowing: The Development of Self, Voice and Mind, reviewed, 202–205
Tashakori, M., Management Succession: From the Owner-Founder to the Professional President, reviewed, 111–114

"Taxation and Statutory Considerations in the Formation of Family Foundations," 383–394
Taxes: and family foundations, 349, 383–394; and planning, 6–7; structure, 17; transfer, 386; and wills, 21–22
"Tracking Strategy in an Entrepreneurial Firm," 285–315
Transition. See Change
Triangular family patterns: case examples, 159–163; common, 147–148; with daughters, 149–150; in family business, 159–161; with mothers, 148–149. See also Family
Trusts: charitable lead, 387–390; charitable remainder, 388, 390–391; split-interest, 387

U

Utopias: authority and succession in, 29–31; defined, 23; and family firms, 23–32; ideals, 23–24; and order, 26; and perfection and harmony, 25–26; and sacrifice and investment, 27–28; and transcendence and communion, 28–29

V

Von Lossberg, A., "The Role of the Nonfamily Administrator in Family Foundations," 375–382

W

Walsh, F., Women in Families, reviewed, 199–202
Ward, J. L., "Beyond Success: The Continuing Contribution of the Family Foundation," 347–355; "Should We Professionalize Family Business Counsulting?" 263–265
Waters, J. A., "Tracking Strategy in an Entrepreneurial Firm," 285–315
Welsch, J., review by, 111–114
"Who Are the Family Foundations: Findings from the Foundation Management Survey," 337–346
Wieboldt Foundation, 409–412
Williams, D. H., review by, 114–117
Wills, 21–22
Wilson, K. P., review by, 424–427
Women: advantages, 128–129; anchoring, 172–173; and business issues, 133–136; contributions, 129–133; and definition of self, 130–131, 133–134; double bind, 145; in family business (profile), 127–128; and family business workshops, 125–127; and family therapy approach, 201–202; and feelings of self-worth, 133; identity development, 172; and interpersonal dynamics, 134–135; invisible, 143–145, 153–166; job positions, 128, 156–157; lifecycle changes, 157; lives of, in family business (model), 131–132; loyalty, 132–133; media treatment, 127; moral judgment, 130; organizational effectiveness, 173–177; overnurturing, 141–143; and power, 135–136; and prejudice, 135–136; role conflict, 133–134; roles, 141–145; salaries, 128; silent, 204; and succession issues, 146, 148–149; supportive/sensitive, 132; ways of thinking, 203–203. See also Father-daughter relationship; Invisible women
Women in Families, reviewed, 199–202
"Women in Family Businesses: Challenges and Opportunities," 125–137
"Women, Family Culture, and Family Business," 139–151
Women's Ways of Knowing: The Development of Self, Voice and Mind, reviewed, 202–205
Workplace: and child care, 128; gender issues, 129–130, 154; humanization, 129
Workshops, family business, 125–127

Y

Ylvisaker, P. N., "Family Foundations: High Risk, High Reward," 331–335